St. Helena Hospital's 23rd annual golf tournament, which featured PGA Tour legend Johnny Miller, raised $55,000 — a 10 percent increase from the previous year.

The funds will benefit Intensive Care Unit upgrades at the hospital.

The tournament, which took place at Silverado Country Club on May 20, started with a skills clinic featuring Miller and his grandson. Throughout the day, Miller visited each team — personally handing each player an autographed golf ball and posing for photos.

After a day of golf, participants gathered for an awards dinner, silent auction, and benefit drawing. They also watched a presentation by Miller on how to mentally prepare for competitive golf.
